Taiwan Leisure Farms Development Association

The Taiwan Leisure Farms Development Association was founded in 1998 as a non-profit organization under the Civil Organizations Act. It aims to develop leisure agriculture and rural tourism in Taiwan and has nearly 200 member farms. It has also been supported by officers from the Council of Agriculture under the Executive Yuan, scholars, and other business owners. Our mission is to bring the academia, the government, and the industry together for a better future of leisure agriculture and rural tourism.

The TLFDA Secretariat is dedicated to helping our members provide high quality services, cultivate cultural charm, and establish brand images. To promote such "quality, taste and brand images," four divisions are set at the TLFDA:

1. Administration: This division is in charge of secretariat management. It is also the division that set up the www.taiwanfarm.org website to promote the exchange and passing down of tacit knowledge.
2. Human resource development: The division's missions include setting up the Taiwan Leisure Agriculture Institute, promoting the Leisure Farm Manager Certification, and cultivating managerial talents for the industry.
3. Industry development: This division is responsible for analyzing related laws, promoting the Leisure Farm Service Rating System, and establishing a reliable, high-end industry image.
4. Farm marketing: The division is dedicated to the research and development of new products, attracting more international clients, and promoting tourism in Taiwan across the globe from a globalizing point of view.

In addition to boosting agricultural economy, the TLFDA sees itself as the promoter of public environmental education. It aims to bring social stability and sustainable agricultural development to rural areas as a way to give back to society. The TLFDA secretariat believes that "70% of the effort made for sustaining the present, and the other 30% is for creating a better future." By passing down old-time wisdom, sharing tacit knowledge, and spreading the power of love, the TLFDA hopes to make agricultural villages in Taiwan wonderful tourist destinations and great living environments. Not only do farmers can find their worth, youngsters can also come home to make a good living. In continuing the village culture, everyone can "enjoy a leisurely life while immersing in happiness."

Beyond Happiness

Taiwan Leisure Farm possesses the attributes of a complete natural environment, beautiful landscapes, amusing experiences, and comfortable lodgings that offer blissful journeys far beyond than anyone can ever imagine.

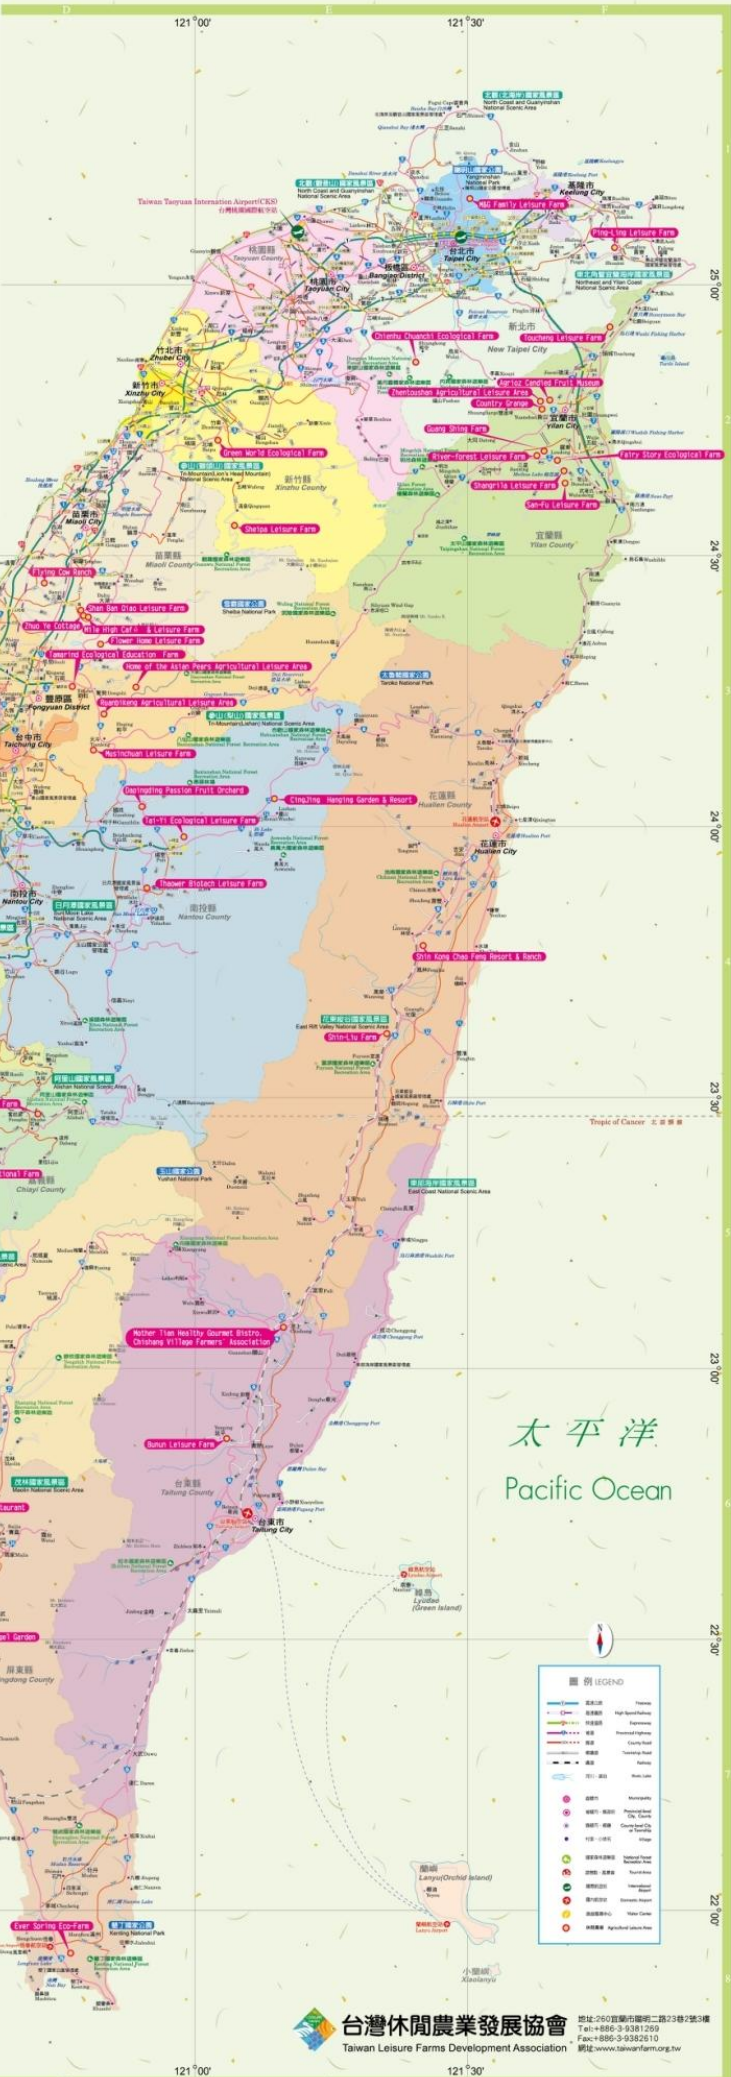

Appreciate at Ease
 Our leisure farm harnesses the original resources of idyllic scenery and natural ecology and environment, to make you feel totally free and relaxed in admiring the beauty of Taiwanese recreational farm.

Relish with Reason
 We use regional (low mileage), seasonal, and organic fresh ingredients to cook our savory dishes with a "simple" culinary method of light oil, light salt, and reduced sugar. You do not have to worry about or be troubled by the heavy burdens of those extra calories.

Purchase with Relief
 The master of the farm combines the concept of health preservation with self-produced, seasonal and fresh ingredients into developing creative agricultural specialties, so as to offer you a sense of comfort in buying any of our products.

Play with Knowledgeable Savvy
 Some of our farm activities include taking the visitors to mountain forests for wild herbs picking, to streams, both of brook shores for fish and shrimp catching, and guiding them to several night tours in the fields for finding and discovering the frog families and fireflies. The purpose is to bring you closer to the great nature where you can learn some useful lessons and general wisdoms about our Mother earth.

Lodge with a Sense of Taste
 Surrounded by the great nature, our leisure farm is constructed by local natural building materials. Through associating with the nearby geographical landscapes, the farm has demonstrated in itself a plain and pure atmosphere of a green-life scene.

White Egret

(One mascot of Taiwan Leisure Agriculture)

Egret is a good partner of farmers, because it has been quickly spreading the agricultural development of Taiwan. Farmers know that there must be a field field where there are egrets, and there must be egrets in our eyes, which represent the spirit of agricultural development. In our eyes, white egret symbolizes as the guide of agricultural development. It leads us to rediscover the scenery and richness of countryside, to regain the good trend of life, and experience the happiest green life.
